

JENINE K. HARRIS, PHD

I have used my data science and teaching expertise to teach statistics courses, publish R packages on CRAN, lead trainings on data visualization and analysis, write books on basic and specialized analytic methods, mentor graduate students and junior faculty, and research social networks, social media, and research reproducibility. I am seeking a remote data science opportunity to apply my technical, training, and leadership skills to new challenges.

Professor

Washington University in St. Louis

📍 St. Louis, MO, USA

- Developed stable R packages so that students and data scientists could interact with my code. Packages were successfully submitted to CRAN proving they were stable enough to be used globally.
- Authored or co-authored more than 90 peer-reviewed publications on gender equity in STEM, research reproducibility, social networks, social media, and other topics.
- Taught graduate-level courses in introductory and intermediate biostatistics and R skills with a particular focus on data literacy. Teaching evaluations from students were above the mean score for faculty in my school for all courses.
- Co-founded and co-directed a peer tutoring center for statistics.
- Conducted workshops for faculty and trainees in R and RMarkdown.
