

JENINE K. HARRIS, PHD

For the last 13 years, I have used my data science and education expertise to teach graduate-level biostatistics courses, publish packages on CRAN, conduct workshops for new R users, write books on basic and specialized statistical methods, and research social networks, social media, and research reproducibility. I am seeking a data science opportunity to apply my technical and training skills to new challenges.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

current
|
2010

Professor

Washington University in St. Louis

📍 St. Louis, MO, USA

- Developed stable R packages so that students and data scientists could interact with my code. Packages were successfully submitted to CRAN proving they were stable enough to be used globally.
- Authored or co-authored more than 90 peer-reviewed publications on social networks, social media, research reproducibility, and other public health and clinical topics.
- Taught graduate-level courses in introductory and intermediate biostatistics and R skills with a particular focus on data literacy. Teaching evaluations from students were above the mean score for faculty in my school for all courses.
- Co-founded and co-directed a peer tutoring center for statistics.
- Conducted workshops for faculty and trainees in R and RMarkdown.
